expect.

There is so much to do in Carmel. Whether you are there for a weekend, five days, or even a week, the magic of Youtube let's you in on a sneak peek.

A good introductory video can be found on Youtube at <https://www.youtube.com/user/CarmelCalifornia>.

What you will find:

European-style villages

White-sand beaches

Walking tours

Golf

Performing arts

Shopping and art galleries

Restaurants

A couple of the great things about Carmel you will discover:

Everything is pretty much a walk away, so bring your walking shoes

The weather is perfect

Dogs and celebs are everywhere; I'm not sure there's a more dog-friendly city than Carmel.

Also on Youtube, you can see uploaded videos on the "Celebrity Lifestyle" in Carmel, a nice video on the Carmel Mission and who wouldn't want to miss a video of a Carmel sunset.

While I would recommend experiencing Carmel for yourself, these Youtube videos serve a a decent introduction and a nice preview of what one can expect.

Carmel is chock full of quaint inns, unique restaurants and eclectic shops that can keep you entertained for days, but Carmel is all about the natural beauty you will see and the people you will meet.
