Wireless Wednesday for 10/8/14: Atlantic City and the Best Golf Course Apps

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 9, 2014 AT 12:29AM

Rick and Mitch look at some of the best apps dedicated to Golf Courses and what they offer

Rick and his wife Lindsay have been out on the left coast for the last week on the Monterrey Peninsula and at the First Tee Open, Champions Tour event at Pebble Beach and Rick played the newly renovated Poppy Hills course in Carmel.

He's in Atlantic City this week.

1. Poppy Hills iOS and Android app

Rick played the legendary Poppy Hills Course last week and used the app while playing.

The Poppy Hills App includes a GPS enabled yardage guide, 3D flyovers, live scoring and much more! Soak in the symphony of nature playing all around you. There's the quiet roar of the ocean, the distant crash of waves, the occasional bark of a sea lion. There's the chirping of birds, the crunching of wildlife scurrying across the forest floor, the pattering of deer dashing across the fairway. Throw in a little percussion — the solid knock of a golf ball against a stately Monterey Pine. Welcome to Poppy Hills, the closest experience in golf to a round in a national park. The peaceful and serene backdrop sets the scene for a tranquil trip through the grand Del Monte Forest in Pebble Beach.

2. The Dunes (Myrtle Beach)

<http://thedunesclub.net/Golf/Misc-Information-14.html>

Available for both iOS and Android devices, The Dunes app gives you a tour of one of the best courses in Myrtle Beach and so much more.

The Dunes Golf & Beach Club was formed in 1947 by Myrtle Beach area businessmen. Designed by famed architect Robert Trent Jones, The Dunes is thought to be his finest work, incorporating many of his favorite design features into one course.

The Dunes app allows you to book tee times, includes a GPS yardage guide, and includes a course scorecard. If you are going to play The Dunes, why not have the official app downloaded and ready to go on your smartphone?

3. Augusta Golf HD - Free for your iPad

A great overview of Augusta National along with Masters info
